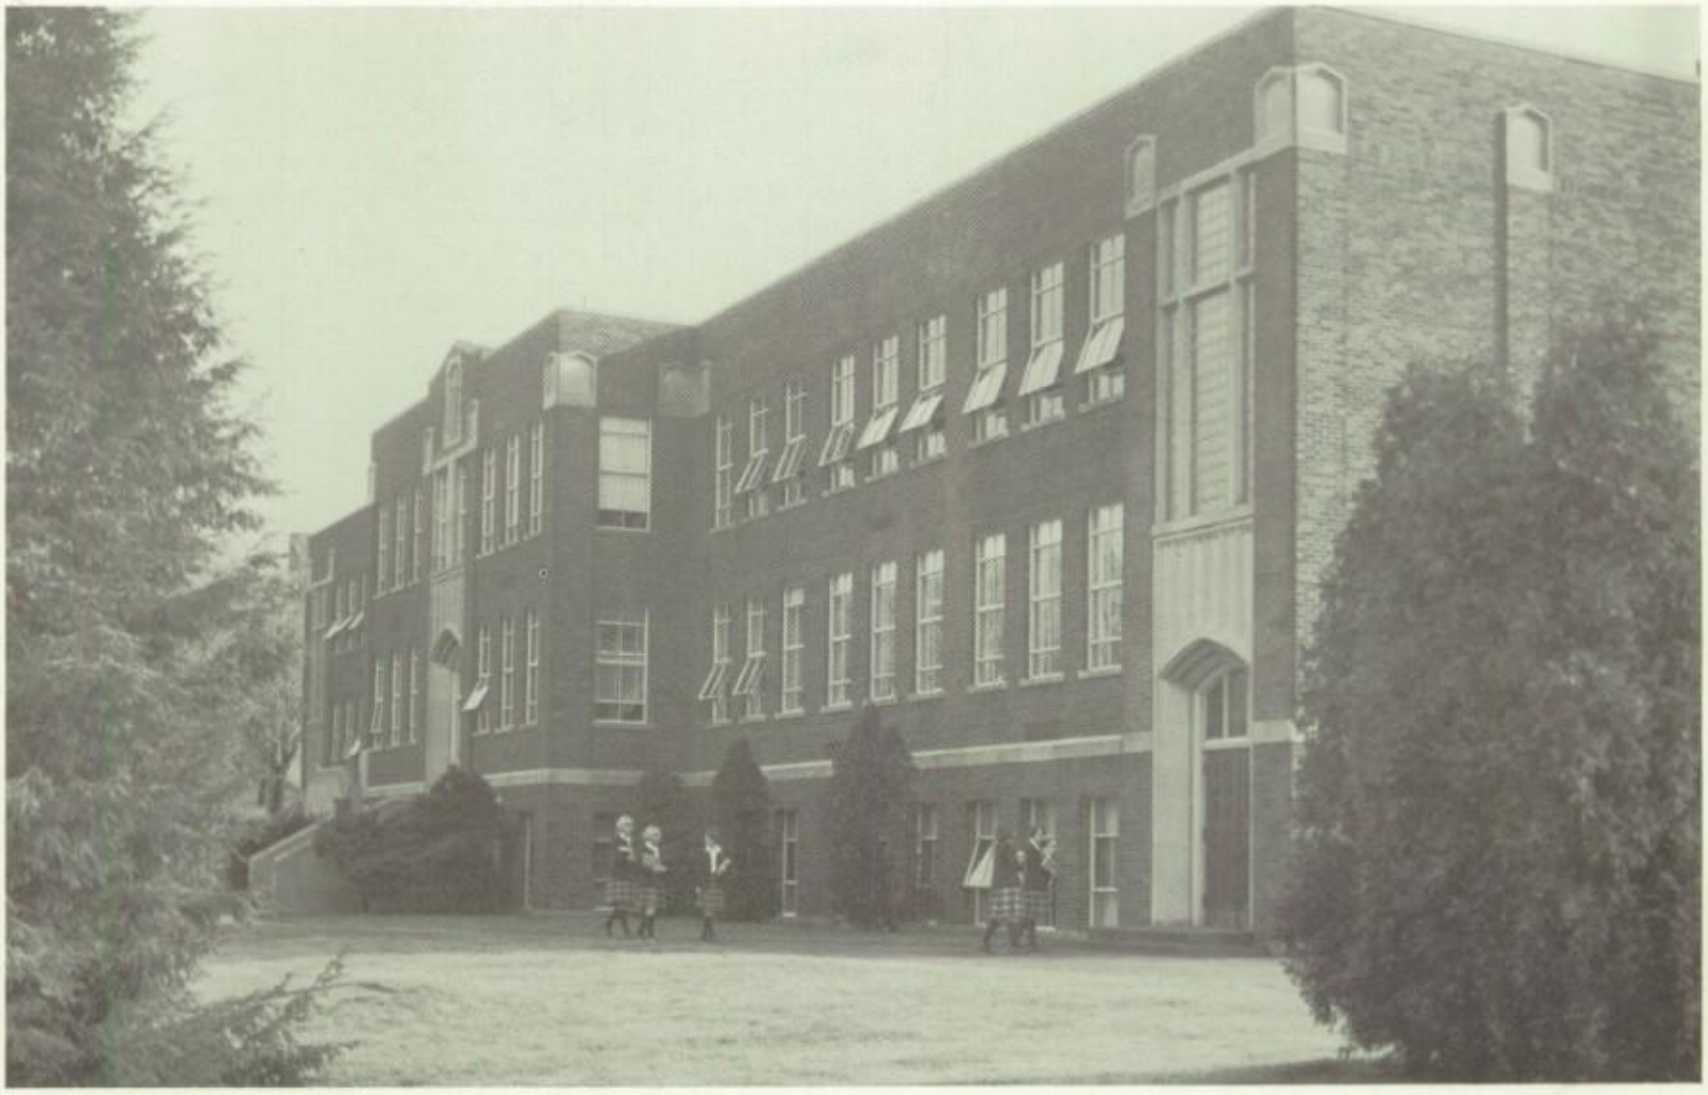
St. Francis presented us with a set of people and concepts which we grew to like and appreciate. Depriving frivolities of their usual importance, we delved into a new deepness in our values. Somewhere among the endless assignments and lunchtime cramming we found ourselves acquiring knowledge. Sometimes we questioned its value; often it escaped with test papers. In classes and discussions, we fell upon the opinions of others as our own took on a new flexibility. We recognized learning as satisfaction and sacrifice. At times we were not sure how much we should give of ourselves. Often the results of our work discouraged us. Then there were the occasions when we could feel ourselves growing, enlivened by a glimpse of what we were doing here. We became concerned less with what others thought of us; more with what we thought of ourselves. The smallness of the school forced us into knowing many people well. We learned from them and they changed us, as all aspects of the school have changed us. Every student graduating from St. Francis is a more fully developed person for it. That's what made it worthwhile.



Dedication And Perseverance

Characterize Our Faculty.

Guided by high ideals, our Faculty strived to strengthen our beliefs and stimulate our desires to learn. They challenged the pettiness in our minds and the intolerance of our views. With insistence they forced us to formulate our own philosophies and to investigate the philosophies of others. Under the direction of the faculty we have become more aware of ourselves, of others, and of the world around us.

Freshmen Anticipate Days Filled With Challenges And Experiences.

Among the memories Freshmen carried with them of their first year as Academites, outstanding was their initiation into high school life. Bewildered, yet anxious to attempt any new challenge, they proved their eagerness to work in the Publications Drive and Queen of Hearts campaign. Their first retreat introduced them to a spiritual side of St. Francis. They questioned, tested, experienced, and, through it all, came out to be the spirited life of the Academy.

With Pep And Personality

The Sophomores Enliven

The Academy Spirit.

The Sophomore year is the base for the great advancement to adulthood. The Sophomores completed this "in between year" some reluctantly, most, eagerly. Their wholehearted support of the Ciscans expressed their endless vitality. Seeking to learn more deeply and to enjoy new acquaintances, they gladly welcomed the opportunity to do both at the Religion Convention at Scranton. Sophomores bring to St. Francis Academy the understanding and joy that is so typically theirs.

Ideas And Moods

Characterizes The Juniors.

Joining the ranks of upperclassmen, the Juniors are ready to accept the responsibilities entrusted to them by the graduating Seniors. Uncertain of their future, the Juniors are willing to try whatever might be an answer to the question of knowing themselves. The excitement experienced on Ring Day will never be forgotten as the highlight of their Junior year. Although sometimes unsure of their new status, they hopefully intend to carry out their pledges of loyalty to the Academy.

Academites explore the world of microbes and protozoa to discover the wonders of nature.

Expressions of relief, satisfaction, and horror flicker across faces after report card distribution.

The Junior Derby and Turtle Race provided thrills and the Penny Pitch and Basketball Toss added spills to make the Queen of Hearts carnival a success.

A Variety Of Activities Promotes Welcomed Relaxation From The Classroom Routine.

Through co-curricular activities, an individual develops his personality as he discovers when to lead and when to follow. It is necessary to escape from the world of slide rules and microscopes to prepare oneself socially for what is to come. Friday night dances, the Queen of Hearts carnival, the long awaited Business Club formal, all combine to brighten the life of an Academite. Basketball games, whether varsity or intramural, provide a stimulus needed to break the turmoil of term papers and protocols. Studies seasoned with activities prepare us for the adult world.

Sister M. Francesca coaxes and threatens, encourages and lectures to perfect harmony, diction, and proper breathing in her Glee Club and Chorus.

A mingling of convictions and opinions results in animated discussions between students of South Catholic and St. Francis.

Graduates often steal a moment to recall some special high school memories.

The window casement provides an opportune spot for students to become better acquainted and share the happenings of their day.

Ruth Barone and John Gibbs were one of the first couples to pose for pictures during the Business Club formal December Twilight.

Ciscan coach Don Murphy dubiously agrees to a surprise play proposed by the first string.

Students' Laughter Mixes With Enthusiasm

As The Campus Scene Shifts To Its More Active Side.

"That's the way to go, Bernie!" resounds throughout the gym as the cheerleaders root the varsity to another victory.

The victorious Ciscans prove they're number one.

We Leave the Academy

Prepared to Serve Others

Within these four years we have changed immeasurably. The transition cannot be measured because it involved the intangibility of self-awareness, the subtlety with which it moved us all. Growth was inevitable, but the spirit and the direction of the growth were determined here. At Saint Francis Academy we found a need to achieve and become necessary. We challenged both truth and indifference toward it. We realized individuality and reality, accepting each person as she develops. We learned of the responsibilities of life and yet delighted in living. These things are more than memories—they have made us new people. Some of our youth has been spent here, but not wasted. We have matured, bettering ourselves and hoping to better the world. We wonder, we try, we believe, we live.

Never forget all the fun we've had this year at SFA - In those boring History classes - we wrote those cheerful notes to brighten each other up. Remember MacDougal Street & that cute boy that gave us the daffodils in Washington Square. We've got to go back to New York - It was so frivolous. Remember we rolled up our slacks to sneak outof the hotel? Your hair looks great the way it is now - keep it like that and stay the doll you are! I wish you would have been in our hotel room - we would've had even more fun - "Cheetah" or "Purple Onion" & those $1.25 cokes in the "Village" - Sorry I took so much space up - I but I think youre great & I dont want you to forget me - I wont forget you

P.S. Good Luck with Eugene -

P.S.S. Remember Daye thought those "peace" daffodils - were drugged?

Always keep a pleasant smile and lots of luck in your plea for a dog.

To Aggie
I'll never forget, when you were going home from Bonnie's party. It's so sweet and nice of someone so afraid at a good time. I'll never forget you and Ryan could be so fun we had a good time. Peggy
